TO THE LOVING MEMORY

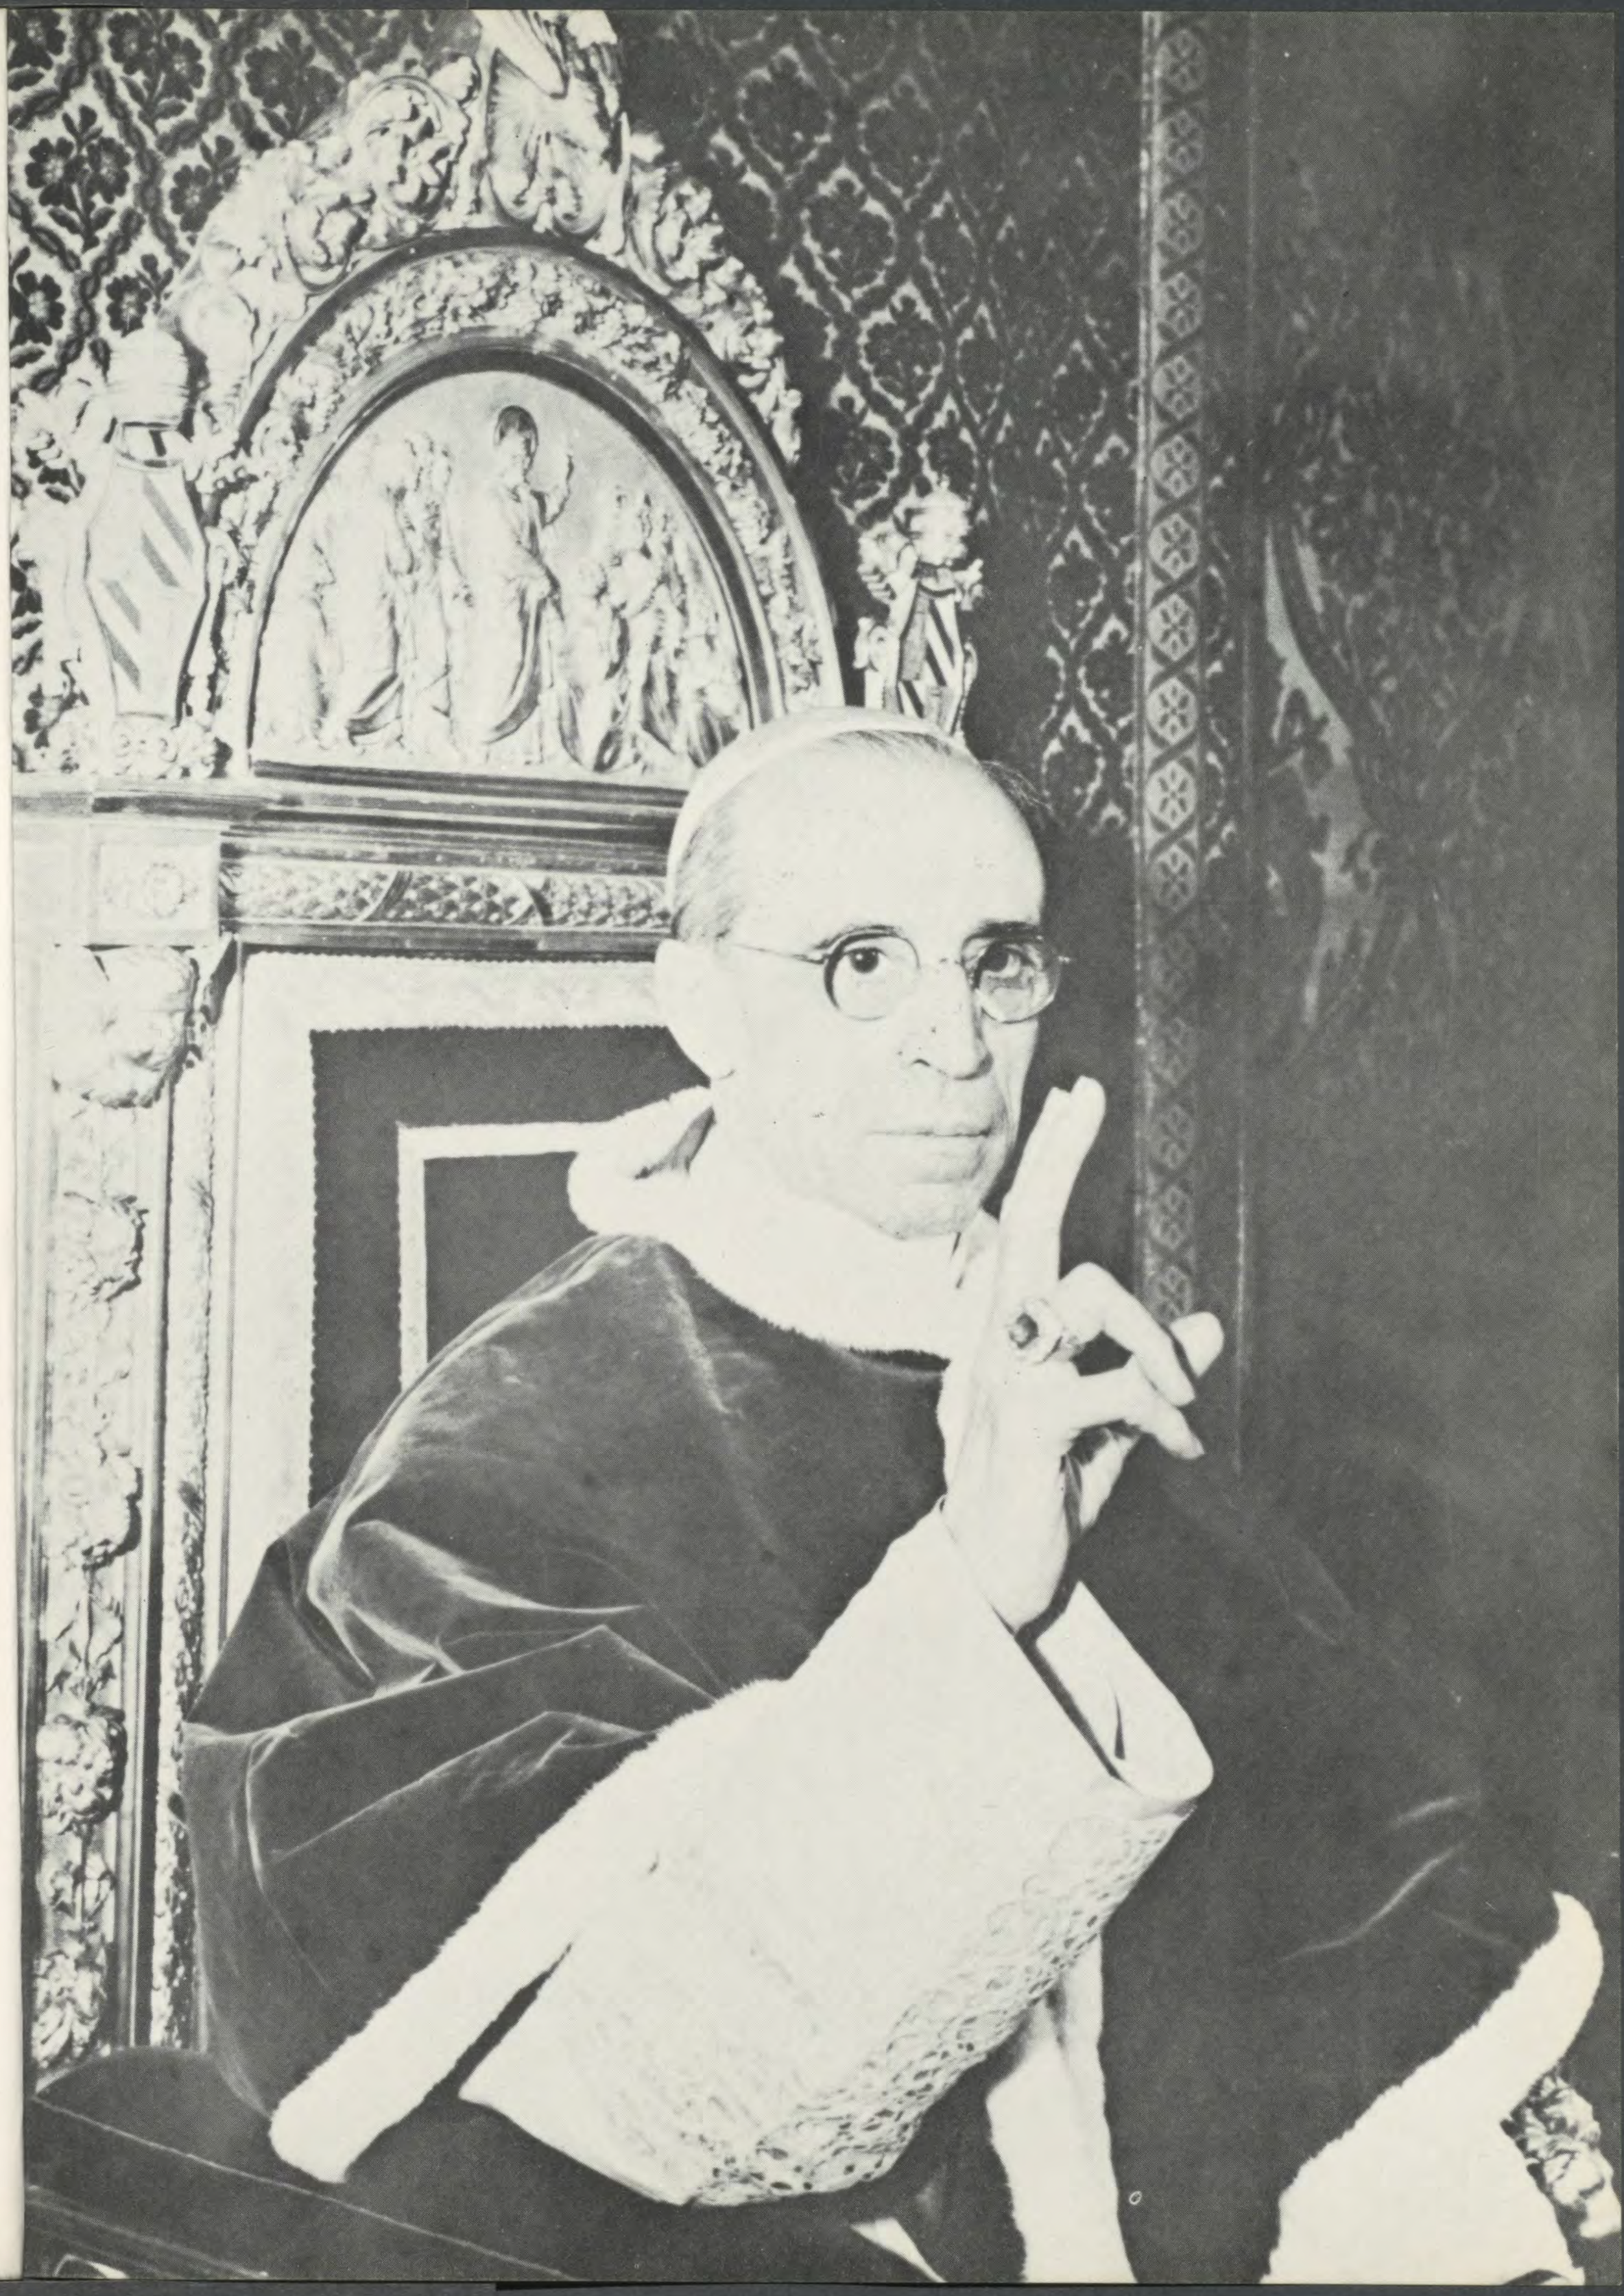

of Pope Pius XII . . . beloved Pontiff . . . Angelic Pastor . . . we dedicate this record of our school days.

We shall remember him . . . when we pray the Mass at dusk . . . when we receive Our Lord more often because of changes in the Eucharistic fast . . . when we share the splendor of the Easter vigil . . . whenever we enjoy the fruits of his liturgical reforms.

Long will his charismatic presence be felt upon this earth of ours . . . for he has brought men closer to the goodness and winsomeness of Christ. Strong and zealous . . . with the might and fire of the Spirit . . . this frail, graceful man . . . was truly a pillar of justice to this world . . . so steeped in injustice.

May this Pope of Peace . . . with spirituality and saintliness so universally recognized . . . be someday raised to the altar of the Church . . . our Saint of Peace.

Dear Lillian,
Lots of Luck and Best Wishes
In the Future!

THE HOLY SPIRIT GUIDES...

the student of Notre Dame High School . . through light and shadow along life's varied pathways . . . giving strength in early days to choose direction with precision . . . urging ever onward all her steps along divinely destined roads . . . Life's inexperienced traveler . . . she will need the Spirit's light to detect the dangers that may block her path . . . to dispel the darkness that may set her steps in waywardness.

During life's Advent time of learning and preparation she can be brought to sure discovery of roads divinely mapped . . . by those through whom the Spirit points direction . . . offers guidance . . .

Mission representatives study "The Shield." Teresa Tann, Janet Fisher, Barbara Schemmel, Kathy Cameron, Emily Case, Doris Jost, Mary Lou Blackburn.

THE LEGION OF MARY

Marlene Martz and Mary Rose Wolke teach Religion every Saturday to children attending public schools.

Eleanor Wagner instructs her Saturday class.

LEAGUE OF THE SACRED HEART

Officers of the League listen to Charlene Leisner, President, explain the purpose of the organization.

Standing: Marlene Vidourek; seated: Judith Giuliano, Teresa Conese, Nancy Trauthwein.

ART IS A WINDOW TO THE INFINITE

Art students learn to see, love, and share beauty in painting, ceramics, calligraphy . . .
Lois Honerlaw, Marilyn Welsch, Mary Virginia Hoffman, enjoy painting a still-life.

Working with ceramics is a pleasant task for the freshmen. Judith Cox applies glaze to her figurines, while Patricia Nohrer and Charlotte Osner prepare to pour clay in a mold.

Sister Anna Marie gives her appraisal of Diane Stuhlmueller's lettering, while Deloris Miller works on a poster.
