BASKETBALL

The Rams started out the season by blasting their way to a 5-0 record (which would have been 4-1 if not for the last-minute heroic efforts of Dick Thomas in the Colerain game). Not even the "green" fans, however, could help bring the team back when it fell behind early in the Taft game, and this 69-65 setback was the first defeat for the green machine. The Rams were able to up their record to 7-1 before the Garfield game when with the help of Steve Klammo's two clutch free throws Badin enjoyed its first-ever basketball victory over a Hamilton public school. The season continued less spectacularly with the Rams salvaging only 3 wins in 9 games and finishing with a 11-7 record. But the Green Machine entered the AA tourney confident they would win it all and through fine team play won a sectional trophy and earned a spot in the district finals. The Rams met their match in Randy Haefner and the McNicholas Rockets and bowed out of the campaign with a fine 14-8 overall record. Coach Hill and the team, as well as the fans, enjoyed a great season.

FOOTBALL

The football team began the season with the goal of winning the State AA Championship. Unfortunately, we didn't make it. Some will say the rating system is unfair, others that we really deserved at least a chance to compete in the tournament. It doesn't matter now, the season's over forever.

An 8-2 record is certainly a record to be proud of. Those eight victories include the humiliation defeats of Fairfield, Taft, and Tallawanda - three of the sweetest victories ever tasted by Ram teams. These victories were brought about by the unity and dedication of the team working under the relentless, expert coaching of our staff. Each man had a job to do and he did it. The team did everything together, from scouting opponents to going to Mass before the games.

The coaches were the hardest working group of men around. And, even though you hated them for all of those extras you ran and for the times when you felt like you would die right there on the hill for lack of air and water and for all of the times that you thought you had died and were doomed to spend eternity breathing in air composed of 99% dust while running "37 slant" just one more time, you knew you would do anything for those men. And when it was all over, you knew it was worth it, and you were sad! - R. Becker

Dramatics —

Presentation of the play TEAR ALONG THE DOTTED LINE was the dramatic highlight of the year. This generation-gap tale of an overprotective mother's determination to hold on to her ultra-independent daughter was presented to school-time student audiences as well as at evening performances.

In the spring, the dramatics group participated in the Hamilton Fine Arts Festival for which they presented three one-act plays: THE BABIES, SAM SLICK'S SURPRISE, and THE DIARY OF ADAM AND EVE.

Shades of the Green

Averaging an issue every two weeks, SOTG this year was a truly effective transmitter of school news. This homeroom period class kept the student body factually informed and thoughtfully concerned about the world of Badin.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

In the POLICE SCIENCE course offered each semester by the Hamilton Police Department, students are given the opportunity to learn to understand the function of the police department in the community. This year, in addition to being made familiar with the use of firearms and hearing from members of PRIDE, a drug rehabilitation group, students were taken on observation patrols in police cruisers and on field trips to municipal court, the City Building, and a disaster area--Xenia. Another feature of the class (pictured above) was a demonstration, presented by Detective Richard Carpenter with the cooperation of Patrolman Thomas Turner, class instructor, and members of the class, of the operation of the polygraph.

When the new HAMILTON ICE ARENA was completed this year, enthusiastic and spirited use was made of it by boys' hockey teams and a girls' figure skating group. Both informally organized groups are shown at left.

Holy Mass

Students assembled in the gym joining together in communion and prayer at the beginning of the school year, at Thanksgiving, to welcome in the season of Christmas, to prepare for the season of Lent, to celebrate Stephen T. Badin Day, and to close the year of school work. Fr. Francis Miller, Fr. John Roettle, Fr. Ken Baker, Fr. Ray Leurch, and, guest celebrant, Fr. Albert J. Bischoff, Chaplain at Xavier University, assisted in these services to God.

Hill

Each year Badin turns on the enthusiasm for SPIRIT WEEK. In '74, a "50's" day with appropriate costume vied with the traditional Farmer's Day for the most spirited participation. Halls were transformed and cheers composed for pep-assembly competition.

Junior Prom

Magic was in the air on May 18 when the class of 1974 held its last social event. From the enchanted forest in the lobby to the natural scenes on the tables to the flower bed before the court, the image was one that will never fade. Haymarket Riot lent the evening a final note of perfection by playing a wide range of music with a touch that was out of this world. The royal dance, "Could It Be Magic," was led by King Steve Spoerl and Queen Judy Harbron. Mass was said after the dance by Father Miller at St. Mary's. The evening was brought to a close in regal style at the K of C Hall to the tunes of Uncle Buster.

This Was
the Year

WATERGATE - 1973 and 1974 might be termed the era of watergate. The battle was one over the strengths of government's executive and legislative branches. This issue consumed the interest of the Federal government throughout the whole year. The Senate investigating committee headed by Sam Ervin and special prosecutors Cox and Jaworski, along with the controversy over the Nixon tapes and the beginnings of impeachment investigations were foremost in the news. The issue was undecided at the end of the school year. In August, Mr. Nixon resigned.

THE HEARST KIDNAPPING - Early in 1974 Patricia Hearst, daughter of a San Francisco newspaper editor and heiress to the famed Hearst fortune, was kidnapped by the Sybo-nese Liberation Army. There appeared to be evidence that she was involved in the de-manding of ransom from her agonized parents and that she had joined the subversive SLA.

MIDEAST WAR - October 1973 saw another outbreak of war between Israel and the Arab states. Although the war was quickly over, limited fighting continued throughout the year. Only through the efforts of Secretary of State Kissinger was any form of peace restored. President Nixon toured the area in June 1974.

AGNEW--FORD - In early October, 1973, Vice-President Spiro Agnew resigned because there was evidence against him of tax fraud and collusion in issuing government contract while he was Governor of the state of Maryland. Gerald Ford, the House Minority Leader, was appointed by Mr. Nixon to succeed Agnew. By the end of October, Mr. Ford was accepted by the Senate and sworn in and he has spent the succeeding months in making tours and speeches for the President. In August, Gerald Ford became the thirty-eight President of the United States.

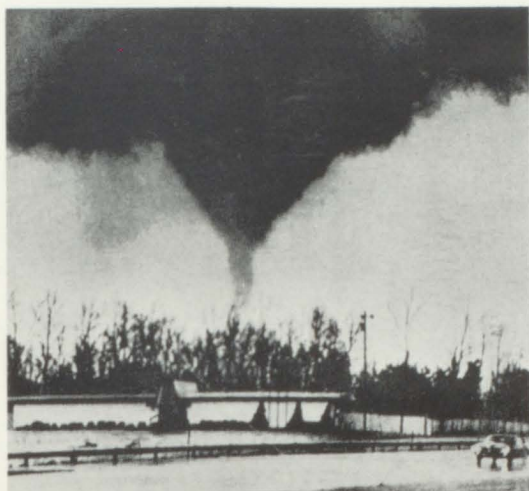

GAS SHORTAGE - Gasoline prices rose 20¢ a gallon from the summer of 1973 to the summer of 1974. This was mostly due to the increase in the cost of Mideast oil and the stated scarcity of oil. A national 55 mph. speed limit was set and a several week long independent truckers' strikes ensued. The truckers' strikes and the long lines at gas stations tied up the nation for months.

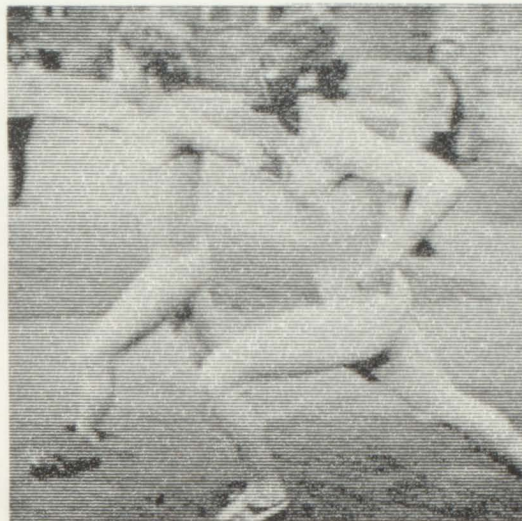

But the station owners weren't persuaded last week that going against the truckers' priority does not amount to illegal

TORNADOES - On April 3 tornados that have been described as the worst natural disaster in the history of Southwestern Ohio struck Xenia and numerous small communities in Butler, Warren, and Hamilton Counties. Total damage was estimated at over $150 million, and the damage to Xenia alone at $95 million. Recovery and restoration efforts were rapidly begun and government aid was extended to the stricken Ohio communities.

STREAKING - During the 1973-74 academic year, a new fad swept college campuses. Streaking, dashing unclothed before the glaring eyes of large crowds, soon became popular in colleges all across America. These antics were generally ignored by police, but some arrests for indecent exposure were made. Hamilton had its share of streakers as several bold dashes were made through local hamburger establishments and around schools.

This Was
the Year

SPORTS - Many baseball fans felt that there was one record that would never be broken. Nevertheless, in April 1974 Hank Aaron broke Babe Ruth's all time home-run record, 714 runs, which had stood for over a quarter of a century. Our hats went off to "Hammering Hank."
