THERE WILL COME A TIME WHEN YOU BELIEVE EVERYTHING IS FINISHED.
THAT WILL BE THE BEGINNING.

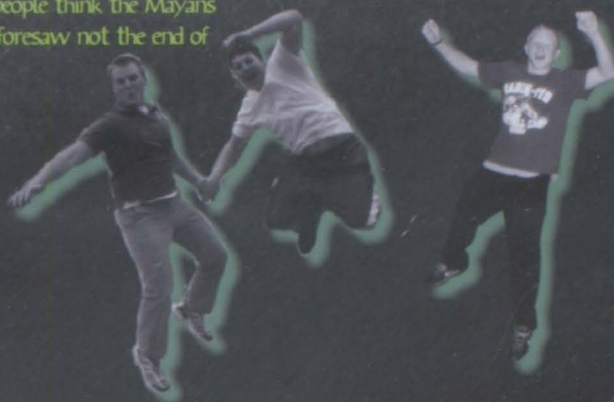

LOUS L'AMOUR

The Ancient Maya created a calendar that ends in December of 2012. Many people think the Mayans were predicting the end of the world, or Armageddon; others believe the Maya foresaw not the end of the world but the end of one era and the beginning of another.

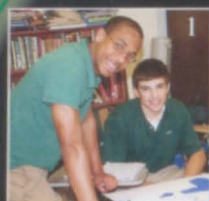

For Badin Rams, the end of the world as we know it comes at graduation.

what would you do if it were the end of the world?

"If I were dying my last words would be: Have faith and pursue the unknown end."
Oliver Wendell Holmes

There are 180 school days in the countdown to Ramageddon, and these Badin students know how to get the most out of each and every one of those days.

Max Smith, Freshman

Our lives overlap, the relationships we build last, and, over time, the last things...

..are the lasting things.

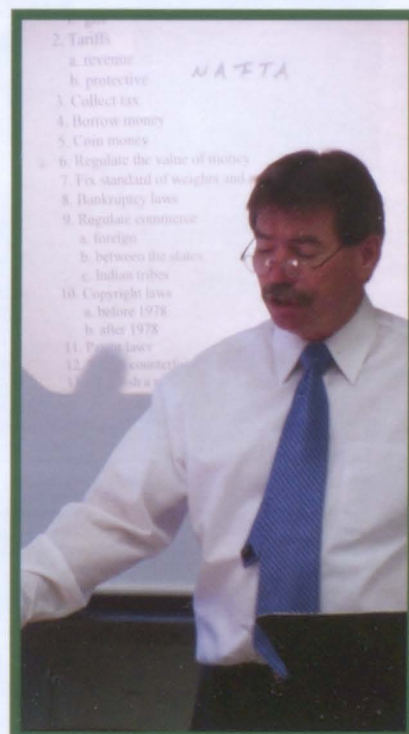

Thomas Rains, 1950 - 2012

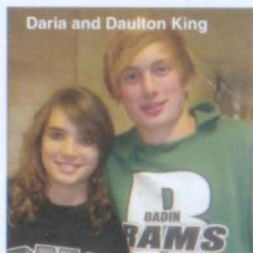

The Rampage Staff would like to honor the memory of Tom Rains, a valued member of the Badin faculty, by dedicating the 2011-2012 yearbook to him.

Mr. Rains graduated from Badin in 1968 and joined the faculty in 1983. He was an excellent teacher who loved history and government. Tom will be deeply missed by all who had the honor of working with him or being one of his students.

Time is always precious, but never more so when you know the end is near. In his now historic 2005 commencement speech at Stanford University, Steve Jobs told those listening, "Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life...Have the courage to follow your heart and your intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become."

The Rampage Staff felt it was important, then, to take a look at how we spend our time, day by day.

We surveyed the student body and found that

*EVERY HOUR,
EVERY DAY,
EVERY WEEK,
OUR LIVES ARE ACTION-PACKED*

because every second counts.

"On Sundays I go to Church, hang out with my family, and do last minute homework."

9/11/11

by Alex Moulvi

On the 11th day of September, exactly 10 years ago,
most of us remember,
how we were all attacked by foes.

It was a peaceful start to a sun-filled day, and only God knew, how much we would all have to pay.

As the planes hit the towers,
and the fear hit us,
we sat with no power,
and disbelief within us.

Children lost their parents,
husbands and wives their spouses,
friends lost memories,
and kids lost their childhoods.

As the dust settled,
and the anger kept at bay,
we all gathered together,
and started to say...
together we stand and together we conquer,
for what was done today
will only make us stronger.'

So as today has passed,
and we have now conquered,
let us never forget that we are all now stronger.

Countdown to RAMAGGEDON 168 DAYS

On September 10, 2011, the Badin football team took the field against Edgewood. Ram fans came out in force to support the Rams and to commemorate the 10th anniversary of 9/11. Students gathered personal hygiene items to ship to our troops overseas. They gathered over 5,000 items for our veterans. Veterans in the Badin community were also honored at halftime. The Rams pulled through with a 14-7 win.

voices from the crowd

Mr. Mears was 22 years old when 9/11 happened. He was at Northwest High School at the time of the event. "My cousin was working in a building close to the World Trade Center and saw people jumping out the windows," said Mr. Mears. To commemorate the 10th anniversary, Mr. Mears went around and took pictures of historical sites in Hamilton.

Mr. Streng was in his 4th period physio class when 9/11 happened. He remembers watching the television broadcast in every class and his friends talking about the draft. Mr. Streng had several friends go into the military because of 9/11.

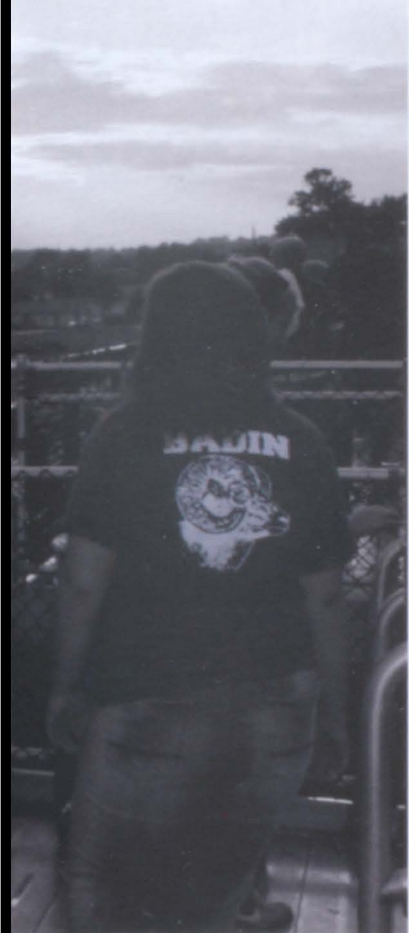

Mr. McGuff was 10 years younger than he is now when 9/11 happened. His son Kevin, then an assistant women's basketball coach at Notre Dame University, was on a recruiting trip and scheduled to be on the plane that crashed into the Pentagon but chose instead to talk to another recruit in a nearby town.

Freshman Connor Scott was just four years old when 9/11 happened. He was in kindergarten at Marshall Elementary in Oxford, Ohio. Connor does not know anyone that was affected by 9/11 personally, but he says he remembers watching it on TV.

One Acts

The One Acts have been a tradition here for many years. Mr. O'Hara's drama class directs the production. Rachel Schwarz directed "Poe-Dunked." Haley Fortuno was the director of lighting and backstage production. Molly Ernschwender assisted in the directing of "Poe-Dunked." The class performed their own act, which everyone in the class participates in. The other One Act play, "The Most Cliched Elevator Play in the History of the Entire Universe," consisted of students who tried out for a role. The plays were very well rehearsed, resulting in a wonderful production. The audience was very pleased with the acts. All were comedies, which kept the crowd in a constant laugh.

Many of our seniors have been going to school together for years; others not as long. All of them have had the joy of meeting one another at Badin. The relationships made at Badin, even if they have been for four instead of twelve years, are friendships made that will last forever, beyond Ramaggedon.

Baccalaureate Mass

Members of the Badin community gathered together for the Baccalaureate Mass and the all-school Senior Mass to celebrate the passing of time for the seniors. In the countdown to Ramaggedon, time is not measured by the passing of years but by what each one of us does, what each of us feels, and what each of us achieves.

1 TAG president Andrea Schuler passes down her duties to the new president Sarah Flum.

2 Father Muhlenkamp gives the homily.

3 Senior Katelyn Kreke reads the introduction to the senior mass.

4 Megan Driscoll and Grant Fields process into mass together.

5 Molly Ehrschwender dedicates a special song to her senior class.

6 Sara Schweinefuss and Kyle Seigel process into the gym for the Senior Mass.

7 Chrisitna Pohlman and Eric Peters.

Is this the end???

T.S. Eliot said, "To make an end is to make a beginning. The end is where we start from." So, even though we have finished the countdown and reached Ramaggedon, we find that the end is not really the end. Our journey to Ramaggedon was about the journey, not the end destination. And that's good, because as Charlie Chaplin once said, "In the end, everything is a gag."

Speaking of gags...everyone seems to be getting in on the act!
